

GL860

Various measurements of the water electrolysis system

【Industry】 Development

Various measurements in the development of “water electrolysis systems” that convert renewable energy into hydrogen

As part of efforts to achieve a decarbonized society, the company is adopting the “P2G system,” which is expected to play a key role in expanding renewable energy and reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

P2G System

Power to Gas

Using renewable energy to electrolyze water and produce hydrogen (gas)

GL860

Use the GL860
for quick measurements!

✓ Remote monitoring is also possible with the web server feature!